Kills 20

Many of the Victims Were Either Drowned, Buried Alive or Burned

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—An explosion of gas in a deep trench in Gold street, Brooklyn in which a number of men were employed today cost probably twenty lives and threw that section of the city into a panic. The force of the explosion shook down hundreds of tons of earth, stone and timber upon the men at work at the bottom of the trench fifty feet below the surface.

Many Drowned

Those who were not instantly killed were drowned in the great volume of water which poured in upon them from breaking mains or were smothered by escaping gas.

Some Buried Alive

Some of the buried men may also have been burned by the fire that followed the explosion. Among those who lost their lives were one woman and three children who were passing through Gold street at the time of the explosion and were carried down when the sidewalks toppled into the trench.

Died a Hero

All the officers who lost their lives were men employed in the trench. They included Frederick W.

Dr. Frank L. Adams Suddenly Expires

One of California's Most Distinguished Surgeons Victim of Heart Neuralgia.

Dr. Frank L. Adams, one of the most distinguished physicians of this city, died at his home at 1130 Locust street, San Francisco, at 11:30 o'clock last night of heart neuralgia at the home of his cousin, Dr. James Adams, 65 Lee street, Alameda heights, after an illness extending over only a short period.

On Saturday the doctor felt the first symptoms of the disease in the acute pain in the region of the heart. Yesterday morning he was visited by some of his friends and he felt better. He experienced no other attack.

He died at 11:30 o'clock last night of heart neuralgia at the home of his cousin, Dr. James Adams, 65 Lee street, Alameda heights, after an illness extending over only a short period.

Remedies of No Avail

There was an immediate response on the part of many of the leading physicians but none of the remedies administered had the desired effect. The end came and that before the arrival of other medical friends who were hastening to his relief. The death of Dr. Adams has cast a cloud not only over the medical and surgical profession but also over the best people in the community for the reason that his acquaintance was probably as extensive as that of any other medical or surgical practitioner in this section of the country.

In Life's Prime

The doctor had just entered upon his fifty-third year and the fact of his career having come to a close at such a comparatively early age was all the more a cause for regret on the part of all who knew him.

"Do you consider a business hazardous that on an original investment of $67,000,000 paid dividends amounting to $591,000,000 and had left a surplus of $300,000,000?"

"I don't consider the amount of money made determined whether the business is hazardous or not," said Mr. Rockefeller—Question of Frank Kellogg in cross examination of John D. Rockefeller this morning.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—The cross-examination of John D. Rockefeller, the richest man in the world, by Frank P. Kellogg the champion trust buster, began this morning. It is in the government's suit to dissolve the Standard Oil corporation.

Mr. Kellogg said the cross-examination would not be continued to the period between 1882 and 1897 concerning which Mr. Rockefeller gave evidence on his direct examination but would cover the developments which were connected directly with those of the period described by Mr. Rockefeller.

Hazardous Business

In response to questions about the hazardous nature of the oil business (owing to the possibility of failure of supply) Mr. Rockefeller said that the production of crude oil in the Pennsylvania field had steadily increased from 1862 to 1900.

WILL SEEK ANOTHER TRIAL

COTTON MILLS CASE MAY BE TRIED AGAIN

Attorneys for Company Give Notice That They Will Ask for Another Hearing and Annulment of Judgment.

Attorneys George H. De Golla and C. H. Wilson, on behalf of the California Cotton Mills Company in the suit brought against them by Christian Peterson, who recovered $4000 damages for personal injuries, filed with the County Clerk today a notice of intention to move for a new trial and a motion of intention to move to vacate the judgment rendered in the case and ask the court to enter judgment in favor of the defendant.

The new trial will be asked on the following grounds, according to the motion filed today:

1. Irregularity in proceedings of the court, jury and plaintiff.
2. An abuse of discretion on the part of the trial judge by which the defendant was prevented from having a fair trial.
3. Misconduct of the jury.
4. Accident or surprise which ordinary prudence could not have guarded against.
5. Newly discovered evidence material for the defendant which it could not with reasonable diligence have discovered and produced at the trial.
6. Excessive damages appearing to have been given under the influence of passion or prejudice.
7. That the verdict is against law.
8. Error in law occurring at the trial and excepted to by the defendant.

Peterson was a young machinist helper in the shops of the cotton mills in February, 1904, when he caught his arm in a belt. The limb was disabled for life, he claimed, and he is paid for $50,000 damages. He was awarded $4000 by a jury in Superior Judge Wiste's court two weeks ago.

Cameron in Charge Of Cement Plants

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—George T. Cameron has been put in charge of the two cement plants at Davenport in Santa Cruz county, and at Napa Junction in Napa county, which belongs to William J. Dingee, the millionaire, whose property has been pooled. Mr. Dingee and L. A. Buckman retire as leading officers of the two plants and Mr. Cameron will be the president. He will be assisted by Charles E. Green as vice president, A. F. Morrison, vice president, M. F. Young, secretary, and W. R. Berry. All of these men represent the Crocker Bank interests, and it was stated by the officials of that bank yesterday that they are fully secured and that in a short time the plants will be turned back to Mr. Dingee.

Rainy weather plays havoc in pulling the shape out of most overcoats. You can water-soak a Hahn overcoat and the shape stays in it—it is wrought into the garments and has to last. Not a single piece sent out to be made-up in infected or sick-breeding places—every garment made in the shop in the store. The highly skilled tailors work under such rigidly enforced sanitary conditions and among such pleasant surroundings that they vie with one another in turning out the best in them. It is perfection—obtainable only at "Hahn's."

Are you skeptical? Then let "Hahn" prove. You risk nothing—this is the best evidence of good faith.

and his wife and two daughters had but recently returned from a trip to Europe, and did not feel like resuming the occupancy of their fine home on Telegraph avenue, which they had leased during their stay abroad.

Born in New York

Dr. Adams was born in Troy, New York, July 30, 1858, where his father, John Smalley Adams, was engaged in the practice of medicine and surgery. His mother, Ellen Tompkins, was a daughter of Clark Tompkins, an iron manufacturer and inventor of that city and a graduate of Port Edward Institute. His father was compelled to come to California on account of failing health. In 1862, accompanied by his wife and son, he crossed the plains in an emigrant wagon and became a resident of this State. He finally located in Oakland, and in 1877 formed a partnership with the late Dr. A. H. Agard.

Was Educated Here

Dr. Frank L. Adams received his preliminary education at the public schools, McClure's Military Academy and the Oakland High school. In 1877 he entered the University of California and graduated in 1881, receiving the degree of A. B. In 1882 he graduated from the Cooper Medical College and served one year as interne in the City and County Hospital of San Francisco. He then located in Oakland, and was associated with Dr. Agard and Adams in the practice of medicine and surgery until they were both removed by death.

In 1889 he married Mary Wickham

Leigh, daughter of Camille Bowles and the late Major John Wickham Leigh, who survives him. There are two daughters, Nellie Leigh and Camille Bowles Adams. He was a brother of Charlie Adams, a physician and was associated in his practice with his cousin Dr. Leonard P. Adams. Announcement of the funeral will be made later.

Public Official

Dr. Adams, for years, has been before the public, not only as a practitioner of medicine and surgery, but also as a public official, employing the talents with which he was so richly endowed by nature, as also the skill which he acquired in the practice of his profession, for the betterment of the public health and the amelioration of the condition of suffering humanity.

In this manner he served for two years as a member of the Oakland Board of Health and his services in that body will not soon be forgotten by people who recall that after recognition of these benefits was afterwards signified by elevation to the position of health officer of the city.

In Medical Societies

Regardless of the fact that he had a very extensive practice, the doctor was able, by his extraordinary capacity for work and study, to devote no small amount of his time and attention to the affairs of numerous organizations, which have for their purpose the extension of the information and increased usefulness in the medical and surgical callings. He was a member of the American Medical Association, the Alameda County Medical Association of which at one time, he served as president; the California State Medical Society, of which organization he was also honored by the presidency; the California Academy of Medicine, the headquarters of which are in San Francisco; a director and president of the Oakland College of Medicine and Surgery, of which he was one of the most enthusiastic of the founders and in which, at the time of his death, he held the position of demonstrator in anatomy. Some years ago, the deceased was elected a member and treasurer of the Pacific Association of Railway Surgeons.

Social Life

The doctor's time, however, was not all exhausted by work and study for the reason that he was able to find time for pleasures and was always appreciated when he appeared at the gatherings of the clubs of which he was a member, and these comprised nearly all the leading organizations of that character in both sides of the bay, those in this section being the Zeta Psi Fraternity, the Athletic Club, the Bohemian Club, the Niles Club and the Churmont Club. In an effort to bring the two sides of the bay closer together, the doctor had been given to the Oakland College of Medicine and Surgery, covering a trip to the West, where both gentlemen passed three months in visiting the leading hospitals of that section. There, also, at the same time, they attended the sessions of the American Medical Society.

Eastern Visits

In 1907 the doctors again attended the sessions of the American Medical Society and again made a tour of the leading hospitals. At the conclusion of this routine, Dr. Adams and his family started on an extensive tour of Europe, where the former passed a great deal of the time in study and in investigation, and from which he and his family returned only a short time ago. It was this constant desire to be doing something which considered the cause of the early closing of an excellent career.

Friend's Tribute

Dr. F. D. Crowley has been a close friend of the deceased for many years and is greatly grieved by the closing of the life of his friend. In speaking on the matter today, Dr. Crowley said that many years of association with Dr. Adams had caused him to know him well. He was, he said, one of the most honorable men he had ever met. He was a hard worker in both medicine and surgery and his friends feared it was a great application, in connection with his large and exclusive practice, tended to undermine his robust physique and health. Dr. Adams, he declared, had been a student both in medicine and surgery till the last, although the greater part of his time in later years he devoted to the practice of surgery.

Studies in Europe

In Europe, he did not, Dr. Crowley said, place his efforts to advance his profession and there had not only had the advantage of visits to hospitals and colleges, but also of meeting some of the most distinguished practitioners in the world. With all his ability and influence, continued Dr. Crowley, Dr. Adams was not vain of his own superior and acknowledged qualifications. He was genial and affable in his demeanor and could be approached by and would cheerfully converse with all classes of people. He always had a smile for the poor and needy, "He was," continued Dr. Crowley, "a favorite in the homes of the poor and the afflicted. In these matters of importance but in these differences he never woundered. His simplicity, his honesty, his earnestness and his self-preferred any approach to opposition."

Can You Tell the Cause of Your Trouble?

Are you sometimes discouraged, and think you'll never be any better? Can you tell the cause of your trouble, or what makes you sick? Do you know that about nine-tenths of all sickness is caused by kidney trouble?

Have you ever stopped to think that your kidneys may be the cause of your poor health? Most people do not realize how much work the kidneys are required to do every day. Every drop of blood in the body must pass through and be filtered by the kidneys thousands of times a day. How can they do their work well if they are sick?

If your kidneys need treatment, Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, the wonderful kidney remedy, will prove to be just the medicine you need. As you will write to Dr. Kilmer & Co., Binghamton, N. Y., every reader of this paper who has not already tried Swamp-Root, the great Kidney, Liver and Bladder Remedy, may receive a sample bottle by mail, absolutely free. You can purchase the regular fifty-cent and one dollar size bottles at all drug stores.

20 KILLED IN A BIG EXPLOSION

Trout lost his life in attempting to save the woman who was killed. He was caught under falling timbers and remained in that position until the first aid of the crumpling timbers, saved their lives by crawling through a sewer pipe which led towards East river. These men were obliged to make their way through water almost up to their necks before they reached a place of safety.

Crawled to Safety

A remarkable feature of the accident was that four men who were working in the lower part of the trench and who heard the first sound of the crumbling timbers, saved their lives by crawling through a sewer pipe which led towards East river. These men were obliged to make their way through water almost up to their necks before they reached a place of safety.

Searching for Dead

At 3 o'clock this afternoon it was believed that three or four hours' work would be required to reach the bottom of the trench. All the electric light wires in that section of Brooklyn were broken by the explosion and a portion of the city may be without lights tonight.

Samuel Trout, who lived near the scene, lost his life in attempting to save a woman who was passing through Gold street at the time of the explosion and fell into the trench. Trout was caught by the flames from the blazing gas main and roasted alive. The woman was dragged out of the trench and saved by a boy.

The excavation was to be nearly forty feet deep and as the laborers removed the earth the walls had been shored up by large timbers. With Charles Schiffmeyer, a city inspector of sewers, overseeing the work, the men were working at the bottom of the trench when an accumulation of gas from a main which had been accidentally broken during the course of the work, exploded with tremendous force.

The supporting timbers were ripped away and the high dirt walls toppled over on Schiffmeyer and his men. A large water main also was broken by the force of the explosion and a perfect torrent of water began to spout up through the mass of wreckage. At most side by side with these gas pipes roared the flames from the gas escaping from the broken main.

Firemen and workmen from the city water department and from the gas company, worked desperately together in an effort to check the flow of gas and water and to relieve the men who had been imprisoned. There seemed little hope, however, that any of those who had been at work at the bottom of the trench could have escaped death. Their bodies are believed to be buried under tons of earth.

LEFT ON HER DOORSTEP

FOR THIS MOTHER

Mrs. A. G. Thon, of Livermore, Cal., writes: "I picked up from my doorstep one day a little book in which I soon became very much interested. My little girl of five years of age had been troubled for a long time with loss of appetite, extreme nervousness and undue fatigue. She was all run down and in a very delicate condition. This little book was very comprehensively written, and told of the new method of extracting the medicinal elements of the cod's liver from the oil, eliminating the obnoxious oil which is so hard for children to take. 'Just the thing,' said I, 'for my little daughter,' and I immediately went for a bottle of Vinol. It helped her wonderfully. She has gained rapidly in flesh and strength, and she does not take cold half so easily. 'I am extremely grateful for the good it has done her, and I hope other mothers who have weak, delicate or ailing children will be benefited by my experience and just give Vinol a trial.' VINOL is sold in Oakland by The Owl Drug Co.

She Only Feigned Love for Children

SANTA CRUZ, Nov. 20. Mrs. A. H. Miner declared on the witness stand in the divorce case of her husband against her, that she purposely wrote to him in endearing terms so that her children might not be distressed by her letters. She declared she had not loved Dr. Miner for years.

Saw Her Collect

"How do you know she collected?" asked Attorney Hall. "Because I sometimes went with her and held the horse," replied Mrs. Howell. Mrs. Howell then narrated what had transpired when she had gone as a sort of bodyguard with her daughter to Eades' Nest shortly after the earthquake. On a particular conversation was emphasized when Dr. Miner had questioned the parents of the children, whom she knew that he knew the children were his and that he had never questioned his wife's fidelity. The defendant was then led to the stand and subjected to further cross-examination. She acknowledged that she had not loved Dr. Miner for years and during the nine months she was East she had tried hard to forget his treatment of her and to think more kindly of him. Many of her letters to Dr. Miner sent from the East were introduced in evidence to show that she alluded to him in endearing terms while her testimony on the stand was to the contrary. She explained this by stating that the letters were to the little family and knowing that she would be read to the children she did not wish to destroy the picture of harmony in them.

S. P. BUILDS POWER PLANT FOR NEW ELECTRIC SYSTEM Will Start Grading Tracks at Once

ALAMEDA, Nov. 20.—The Southern Pacific Company has commenced work on the great power house to be located on the north side of the tidal canal, near the Embarcadero, which is to supply the current for operating the new electric system to be located in the city on the east side of the canal. The construction is already well advanced. Workmen have put in the steel for the structure and are erecting the framework. The building is to be a four-story structure and will contain the machinery for generating the electric current. The work of securing the deeds to the land for the power plant will be done by the city.

LEHNHARDT IS MAKING GREAT PLANS FOR THANKSGIVING WEEK

WILL START IT OFF SUNDAY WITH SPECIAL FROZEN BRICK CONSISTING OF PINEAPPLE ICE CREAM, FROZEN FRESH PEACHES AND BURNT ALMOND ICE CREAM--WILL MAKE LITTLE TURKEYS BEGINNING MONDAY--WILL UNQUESTIONABLY DO IMMENSE BUSINESS.

Lehnhardt, the Candy Man, is making great preparations for Thanksgiving week. He has just purchased another automobile to add to his already great delivery system and expects, within the next ten days, to supply thousands of families with his special desserts, his clever Thanksgiving turkeys, his holiday nuts and candies and wafers.

The entire staff force have been working for weeks to get their stocks in shape so that during the next ten days their entire time may be given to the various Thanksgiving table specialties Mr. Lehnhardt has planned to supply to the public.

"I'm going to start the ball rolling day after tomorrow by offering one of the most delicious Sunday specialties I ever made," said Mr. Lehnhardt this morning. "Then on Monday I'm going to start making some turkeys of ice cream, which I believe will create a veritable sensation. All through the week I am going to make special Thanksgiving candies, suited nuts, etc., so that no one need have any excuse for not having a successful Thanksgiving dinner as far as desserts and sweetmeats are concerned. It will be the greatest Thanksgiving I've ever had and unquestionably the demand for all these table novelties will be my facilities to the utmost in spite of the enlargements I've recently made."

The dessert for next Sunday will, as usual, consist of a frozen brick which will be delivered in a freezer anywhere in Oakland, Alameda or Berkeley for 80c a brick. The dessert for this occasion will consist of a layer of Frozen Fresh Peaches, which Mr. Lehnhardt has been keeping in cold storage for this purpose ever since the time peaches were ripe. It will be the last time, this year, that fresh peaches can be had. The second layer of the brick will consist of Burnt Almond Ice Cream and the other layer will be Pine Apple Ice Cream, the same Pine Apple Ice Cream that was so successful about three weeks ago.

This brick will be an especially fine one on account of the fact that it is the first of a series of Thanksgiving Specials to be furnished and advertised by Mr. Lehnhardt.

A special candy will also be made for tomorrow and Sunday, which will cause a great deal of interest. It is called Marshmallow Kisses and consists of marshmallows dipped in caramel chewing cream. The price will be 30c a pound and inasmuch as many people have never tasted them a great many pounds will unquestionably be sold.

Those who wish to order the Special Sunday dessert should also try a pound or two of these Marshmallow Kisses. Orders ought to be phoned in tonight to Oakland 497 or Home Phone A3197. Orders for Thanksgiving Turkeys made of ice cream will also be received tonight and all day tomorrow but no turkeys will be delivered until Monday at the special price of $2.00 per dozen. If you want turkeys before Monday they will be $2.50 per dozen.

Watch Lehnhardt next week. Get the Special Dessert Sunday in order to see how really fine his Thanksgiving confections are going to be. It will be a revelation to you.

THE MONITOR

The Official Organ of the Archdiocese of San Francisco

FIAT JUSTITIA

Facsimile of the editorial heading of the Monitor, the official organ of the archdiocese of San Francisco, and the editorial entitled "Fiat Justitia," which will appear in the next issue of this publication.

The attempted assassination of Mr. Henry White in the corridors of his public office in Judge Lawlor's court-room on Friday of last week must fill every citizen with horror who cares anything for the welfare and good name of this city. More than that, it should inspire us with profound fear for the future of this community, were we justified in regarding the act as the outcome of a criminal plot devised by influential men. For, worse than earthquake and fire, and worse than financial stringency and business depression would be the invasion of our courts of justice by armed violence.

Just laws, right judgments and respect for the courts are the signs of civilization and the conditions of peaceful life. Criminal attacks upon our laws, or violent interference with the processes of their execution, signify a return to barbarism and anarchy. Happily, however, we do not believe that the act of the miserable wretch who fired the bullet into the head of the Assistant District Attorney was more than his own. His speedy suicide is the best evidence that he was not the deliberate agent of others. The obvious facts—a smarting personal grievance, business failure, a brooding over these things in an atmosphere of tense feeling—these are sufficient causes to account for the lamentable tragedy.

The incident, however, together with others that preceded it, makes it plain that we need a fresh and stronger moral sentiment in favor of the law. The courts—whether Superior, Appellate or Supreme—must be upheld. Vulgar cartoons and unmeasured editorial attacks upon our judges do not make for even justice, nor do they inspire the people with reverence for our courts. Let these shameful offenses cease; then will the people return to their normal attitude of respect for those who administer our laws, and then also will the public sentiment support, as it should, those who are sworn to carry out the laws fairly and honestly. Justice and right are more than mere party affiliation or personal allegiance. So the Catholic Church has always taught. She loves justice and she hates iniquity. But she addresses herself primarily to the individual conscience, preaching to it of justice and chastity and of the judgment to come, because she realizes that the community can be moral only if the individuals who compose it are moral.

Here is her answer to those who have found fault with her for not having "come out for the Prosecution." She does not conceive it to be her duty to do so. She teaches the principles of morality, she does not feel called upon to support parties. For ages she has stood for the right. She says today, as she has always said: Let the laws be enforced, let the accused be tried, be they high or low, rich or poor; and if they are found guilty, let them be punished. But she has never regarded it as her duty to declare them guilty from her pulpit. That she has always thought to be the function of the judges in court; though she has observed that in the last two years this prerogative, in our city, has been recklessly usurped by editors, preachers and public orators, who seem to have received some special inspiration for this purpose, though from their language their inspiration does not appear to come from a God of justice and mercy.

Even when men come to her and acknowledge their guilt, the Church does not denounce them from her pulpits. She receives their confessions and upon penitence she reconciles them to restitution as a condition of such reconciliation. She never forgets that her chief business is to save souls—those of sinners as well as those of saints. It is not her business to accuse individuals without judicial proof. Public anathemas make enemies, not penitents. Vindictiveness is no part of her spirit.

So the Church has been content to hold to her even course. She preaches to her people the ten Commandments and the religion and morality of her founder, Jesus Christ. To these things are her pulpits consecrated, not to questions of party strife, or to matters related to politics, as politics are now understood. And we think her wisdom here has been justified by the event. San Francisco has lost its judicial calm. In place of it we have violent personal hostilities, engendered by personal attacks, for the most part entirely unjustified. It is a matter of little concern who was initially responsible for this; retaliation in kind is no remedy for the evil; two wrongs do not make a right.

Personal enmities, unfortunately, endure; they are not usually amenable to reason. Time alone can soften them. It is perhaps too much to expect, therefore, that the strained atmosphere of the city will in the near future relax much of its intense feeling, however, it should be the duty of every citizen, while legally and respectfully supporting the laws and government under which we live, to counsel and practice moderation in speech and in writing, and, in all personal intercourse, to discourage the expression of personal bitterness and hatred.

Meanwhile, it is much to be thankful for to know that the Assistant District Attorney is happily recovering from the murderous attack which was made upon his life.

Best $20 Suits You've Ever Seen

At the Toggery, of course, where you will always find unequalled values. The suits ordinarily sold at $25.00 do not measure up to these $20.00 suits.

There is no use to illustrate one of them, for we have six styles all equally desirable. They come chiefly in stunning long coat effects, 30 to 40 inches long, turned or plain tailored; in such colors as black, navy, taupe, green, brown and gray; easily the strongest values in Oakland—$20.00.

Great Offering $15 Covert Coats

PIONEER CAPTAIN DIES SUDDENLY

Capt. Frank Sweetser, Prominent in Many Activities Ends Days in East.

Word comes from Lynn, Mass., of the death of Captain Frank Sweetser, civil war veteran, pioneer of this State and member of the Vigilantes committee in San Francisco. He died November 5, at the home of his sister, Mrs. Clara Jeffrey, as the result of an attack of neuritis of the heart. Deceased was 76 years of age.

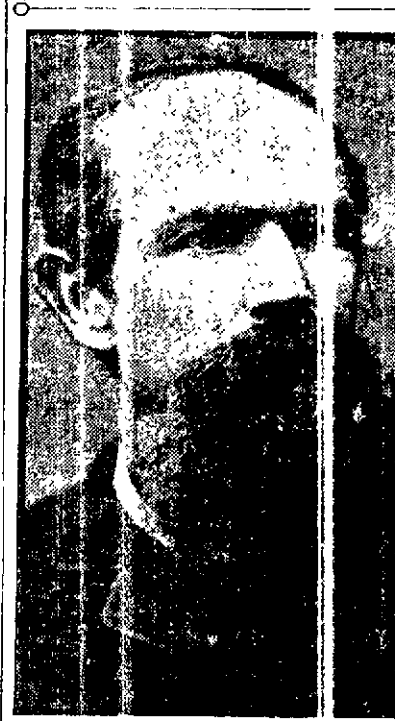

He shipped aboard the clipper ship Bonta under command of Capt. Hollis, and after many thrilling adventures while rounding the Horn, reached California in 1853, in the height of the gold fever. Mining, business and sea-faring were successively pursued until the time of the Civil war, when he returned East, enlisted and fought in the battle of Bull Run.

He was seriously wounded in 1862 and discharged for disability with rank of captain. Finding his way back again to the Golden West, the government appointed him Custom House boarding officer, a post he held nine years. Up to a short time before his demise, he had been living in Contra Costa county.

Capt. Sweetser had the honor of going the longest distance to participate in the Old Home reunion at Lynn last year, traveling over 3000 miles. It was there he lost his life companion. He then came back to California, disposed of his property and returned to his native home, where sickness overtook him.

Captain Sweetser was past commander of Lincoln Post No. 1, G. A. R. of Oakland.

War On Meats

Not On Prices

Our Advice to You

(FROM EXPERIENCE)

Watch with care, the condition of the meat you buy.

Being an independent wholesaler and retailer of meat—in no way connected with the meat trust—the war now going on between the wholesalers has been a great boon to me. While this war is going on the selection of "quality meat" has been "thrown to the wind," leaving me practically alone with the cattle-raiser who makes a specialty of raising the finest steer beef—fattened for killing purposes and to supply the best of trade. I have taken advantage of all this—buying heavy and very cheap—selecting every ounce of meat, and personally superintending the killing. By tomorrow morning our market will be filled to the limit with this choice beef, and the prices lower than ever. Compare the prices we ask with those you were compelled to pay before Lewis opened this popular market. That is why there is no war on prices. If it is a square deal, low prices and "quality meat" you want, I will have your patronage.

COUNTS UNSEEN ORANGES WHEN SLEEPING

Indiana Man Claims Occult Power to See Hidden Things and Will Try for $5000 Prize.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Attracted by the $5000 offer of the Metropolitan Psychological Society of this city to the person who can count a number of oranges without seeing them, a man in Oak and City, Ind., comes forward with the assertion that he is ready to make good by true suggestion and claim the money.

Dr. J. S. Trustee of the Indiana town has written to the society telling of the claims of the man for whom he stands sponsor, saying that he is ready to count the oranges when informed on as to their location is supplied. Where they are makes no difference to the mysterious man. It is said, but he must have them located before proceeding.

To add interest to the test he proposes to do the counting while asleep. The society has replied to the offer that tests be gone through to determine the subjects, powers and good faith in the matter. Hundreds of offers to try for the $5000 are being received by the society daily.

Everything is in readiness for the great battle of tomorrow and it only remains for the "weather man" to do his best to bring about the greatest charitable event that has ever been carried out in this city.

The managing general, Miss Emma Mahoney, has with her fine executive ability brought about the finest corps of well disciplined officers and their aids who are now waiting to enter the fray of tomorrow.

No novel stunts are to come as a surprise tomorrow, besides those that have been announced.

Many Want Gold Tag

The bidding for the gold engraved "tag" will excite great interest. The auction will be held at noon at Fourteenth and Broadway, when the tag will be sold by some pretty young lady while Mayor Frank K. Mott will act as auctioneer. It is anticipated that there will be some lively bidding, as already there are said to be several wagers among the young business men of the city.

No one has been found as yet who will take up the offer of the wealthy San Franciscan who has offered to duplicate any amount up to $1000 given by a single individual.

Worthy Charities

The associations which will benefit from the receipts of the day are most worthy charities. What more worthy charity can be found than that carried on by the Ladies' Auxiliary connected with the Providence Hospital? The children that are cared for and the bed that is maintained does a work that is covered by no other organization. Often there are more than thirty little ones who receive medical attention at the hospital in a month.

The Ladies' Relief Society conducts two homes, one for orphans and the other for the aged poor. This is another worthy cause where no sum would be too large for the extensive work.

The work accomplished by the Associated Free Kindergartens would otherwise fall upon the tax payer. The ladies of this association conduct and maintain schools in four different sections of the city.

THE RED FRONT

Broadway at 9th Street, Oakland.

Doors open tomorrow morning. Be on hand early and avoid crowding management of Ye Liberty Playhouse and between the acts George Cooper and Landers Stevens will walk through the aisles of the theater in their costumes collecting dimes for charity.

It is difficult for one not in the work to realize the enormity of the undertaking: what it is to organize a body of over 1000 women that they shall know just what their duties are, where they are to report, and when they are to start.

Busy This Morning

The main floor of the Key Route hotel was a busy scene this morning when final instructions were given and received for tomorrow.

Should it rain at 7 o'clock tomorrow morning Tag Day is off. Cloudiness or fog will not cause a postponement, nothing will prevent the carrying out of the work but a genuine rainfall.

Mrs. Samuel D. Prather held a meeting of her forces in the main lobby of the hotel, where they received special instructions for their work, which includes the ferry boats.

An Efficient Captain

Mrs. C. S. Chamberlain is one of the efficient captains and will cover the Bay school district near Sixty-second street and San Pablo avenue. Her assistants will include Mr. Crawford, Miss Stokes, Mrs. A. C. Dietz, Mrs. Henry Westphal, Miss Irene Aiken, Miss J. Matthews and over fifty others.

The Berkeley Inn at Bancroft way and Telegraph avenue will be the headquarters for General Mrs. Henry Merdine of the Berkeley division.

A merchant who has entered the spirit of the day is Henry Morton, the jeweler, who has offered a handsome trophy to the young woman who sells the most tags in the school district.

All Enthusiastic

The Chamber of Commerce has heartily endorsed Tag Day plan and the entire body has pledged itself to aid in the work.

A committee composed of Mrs. H. C. Capwell and Miss Emma Mahoney appeared before the board and asked for their endorsement, which was gladly given.

A proclamation was issued today by the Mayor of Berkeley as follows:

"Tomorrow (Saturday), November 21, has been set aside for Tag Day in Berkeley by the charitable workers among the good women. I hope all our people will remain good natured during the whole day and help to make a liberal showing for Berkeley for such a good cause. Remember it is for the benefit of the needy little ones."

"FRANCIS FERRIER, Mayor."

MRS. KAHN TELLS HER AIDES WHAT TO DO TOMORROW

Mrs. Sol Kahn, lieutenant general of one of the "Tag Day" divisions, held a meeting this afternoon at Oakland avenue, for the purpose of assigning stations to the divisions in her sections, which will begin tomorrow. The taggers will be in their division. There will be private and chief captain Kahn.

Today the taggers in Mission were fully organized. They received their tags and badges, with instructions to tag as many people as they possibly could.

Mrs. Kahn's headquarters on Tag Day will be in Kahn Brothers store on Washington street, where she will direct the army of captains and privates.

Public Opinion and Lynching.

In one of his recent speeches, charged with ill temper, malice and mendacity, George C. Pardee said the courts should render decisions in accordance with public opinion. He pointed this suggestion with a truculent reference to the Vigilance Committee of 1856. Furthermore, he declared that the United States Supreme Court had given a decision in the Dred Scott case contrary to public opinion, and that public opinion had compelled the court to reverse itself.

All this is clearly aimed at the Supreme Court of California. But Dr. Pardee appears to be as ignorant of American history as he is of the principles of American jurisprudence. The Dred Scott decision was never reversed, but stood as the judicial finding of the civil status of the negroes till the institution of slavery, with its concomitant evils and infamies, was abolished by the amendments to the Federal constitution adopted at the conclusion of the Civil War.

Undoubtedly public opinion in Russia, that is, the opinion of the vast majority of the people in the districts where such atrocities occur, sanction the unspeakable outrages perpetrated on the Jews in the southern provinces of the empire. Even Russian law puts these barbarities under ban, but the religious and race prejudices which pass for public opinion are stronger than the law, and are consulted and utilized by a cruel and despotic government as agencies to crush out liberty of conscience and the aspiration for free government.

Until very recently public opinion in the South has condoned, if not fully endorsed, the horrible lynching and burning of negroes. This mob spirit called public opinion by the courtesy of fiction has invaded a number of Northern States, as shown by the burning and looting of negro homes and the wholesale driving out of offensive black men and women not concerned in any disturbances and infractions of the law.

Local public opinion in New England, voiced by the clergy under the leadership of Cotton and Increase Mather, drove the courts to send to death many innocent persons for the fancied crime of witchcraft. The crusade against witchcraft had its spies, informers and false witnesses, who kept up their horrible work till the spirit of humanity revolted and subdued the insensate spirit of superstition and intolerance. Then it was discovered that the courts had exceeded their powers in rendering obedience to public opinion and had condemned and executed men and women without warrant of law and in violation of its authorized process.

But what constitutes public opinion? By what method is it to be ascertained and declared? Who is empowered to voice it and give expression to its wishes and edicts? Dr. Pardee assumes to speak for public opinion, and his first utterance is a malicious falsehood, his second a demand upon the courts to render obedience to his orders, and his third a threat of lynching all who do not subscribe to his plans and statements.

Religion in Politics.

President Roosevelt's letter energetically protesting against religious intolerance and prejudice being permitted to invade American politics has naturally directed attention to a question that is ignored as a general rule, and when spoken of is too often treated in a gingerly, evasive manner. While the American people are indubitably a Christian nation in the broadly descriptive sense, our political system is wholly non-sectarian. Only one State prescribes a religious test for office. That State is New Hampshire, which forbids in its organic law any Catholic to hold the office of governor. Andrew Jackson was the first President to appoint a Catholic to his cabinet. He afterward appointed the same man, Roger B. Taney, Chief Justice of the United States. Cleveland appointed Judge White, another Catholic, to the Supreme Bench, and McKinley first appointed Joseph McKenna Attorney-General and then Federal Supreme Judge. It is worthy of note that Jefferson Davis had a Jew and a Catholic in the Confederate cabinet.

In President Roosevelt's cabinet there is a great variety of religious sentiment. Secretary Taft is a Unitarian, as the public was unpleasantly reminded by certain bigots during the recent campaign; Attorney-General Bonaparte is a Catholic, Secretary Straus a Jew, Secretary Wilson a Presbyterian, Elihu Root an Episcopalian, while the other cabinet officers belong to different Protestant communions.

As the President says, there is no bar in the constitution or in the genius of our institutions to a Catholic or a Jew becoming President, but undoubtedly there prevails a popular prejudice at the present time that would defeat at the polls any Jew or Catholic who should become a candidate. This prejudice is wearing away, however, and the time will inevitably come when the question of creed will be no determining factor in choosing Presidents.

France is a Catholic country, but the President of the republic is a Protestant who abandoned the Roman church. The leading French ministers of late years have been Protestants or free thinkers, although 97 per cent of the people of France are Catholic. Disraeli was a Jew in blood, but he and his father were both members of the church of England, the elder Disraeli having renounced Judaism to embrace the Christian faith. Von Buelow, the present premier of Germany, is an orthodox Catholic; Sir Wilfrid Laurier, the Canadian premier, is nominally a Catholic, but he is a member of the Masonic order and cannot be said to be orthodox.

Throughout the world there is a growing disposition to sink creedal differences in dealing with political and social questions. As mankind becomes more enlightened and better acquainted with the tenets of different religions, it is discerned that every enduring faith has solid merits and devotees actuated by sentiments of piety, honor and patriotism. Hence in society, as in the brotherhood of nations, dividing lines are no longer drawn along the demarcation of religious belief.

The respectful reproval administered by the Reichstag to the Kaiser for speaking loosely in a way to disturb international comity prove that a healthy spirit of liberty prevails in Germany, and that while the forms of government are somewhat harsh and arbitrary, the substance of freedom and popular sovereignty is cherished and tenaciously preserved. The vote to rebuke the Kaiser was practically unanimous and was without significance so far as domestic political differences. The reproval was respectful in tone and couched in temperate, almost affectionate, language, but it was nevertheless an admonition from the nation that the Kaiser must heed. It is notice that the war lord of the Fatherland must quit, to use the American slang of the day, talking through his hat and endangering the peace of Europe. Kings, nobles and commoners all joined in telling his imperial majesty to go way back and sit down while the affairs of state are being attended to. It has suddenly brought the outside world to a realization of the fact that the Kaiser is the servant of his subjects, not their master.

Death of Dr. Frank Adams.

The sudden death of Dr. Frank Adams deprives this community of a useful and honored citizen. He was a man of rare personal charm. His professional ideals were high, and his mind broad and generous. His solid worth and great attainments gave him a claim to a popular respect that approached affection. Never ostentatious or censorious, Dr. Adams led by his example, his kindly, considerate ways and his persuasive counsel. His entrance into a sick room brought warmth, sympathy and comfort to sufferers. In him robust manliness, truth and honor were united with the gentility of a warm heart and a generous consideration for the feelings and opinions of others. Such men brighten and sweeten the atmosphere around them, stimulate the nobler sentiments of humanity and bring out the finer grain in their social and professional environment. His ethics were truly Emersonian, the sterner qualities of his mind being tempered by a lovable gentleness. The death of Dr. Adams will be universally and sincerely mourned.

"Print nothing but the truth," says a starving and hypocritical contemporary. And to prove how sincere it is it prints on the front page a startling fake about the Empress of China being assassinated.

John D. Rockefeller is as shrewd on the witness stand as he is in finance. The lawyers for the government have made nothing of him up to date. It is clear that age has not dimmed the mental powers of the Standard Oil magnate, and that popular opprobrium has not disconcerted or intimidated him. However much we may condemn his business methods, one cannot restrain a feeling of admiration for the gigantic intellect of this extraordinary old man. In the sense that Micaulay called Warren Hastings and the Duke of Marlborough great, Rockefeller is truly great, nor is his greatness, while it is sinister in some respects, lacking in noble qualities. On one side he is the greed and commercialism of the age incarnate, but on the other he appears as the embodiment of a splendid philanthropy. As an organizer of industry and finance the world has probably never produced his superior, but his conscience is withered and atrophied by a spurious and specious form of Christianity that has substituted forms, maxims and axioms for the life lesson and teachings of the founder of the Christian religion. Nevertheless, Rockefeller must be credited with greatness of intellect, if sordidness of soul. He is a rare compound of benevolence and avarice, of hypocrisy and profound understanding.

A splendid holiday present for a married son or daughter is a building lot in one of the residence sections on the hills.

FOUR HURT ON STREET CARS

BOYS BADLY CRUSHED AND WOMAN INJURED

Series of Accidents Are Reported in San Francisco But None of the Victims Are Fatally Injured.

(Special to The Tribune.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—Four persons, including one woman, were more or less seriously injured in street car accidents in various parts of the city early this morning. Shortly after 7 o'clock, car 1509 of the Polk and Larkin line, while at a standstill at the corner of Twelfth and Mission streets was run into by a big San Mateo suburban car, and Joseph Shay of 1844 Army street, both young boys, were pinned in the wreckage. Shay was caught behind a crushed station post and suffered severe contusions of the back, abrasions of the knee and possible internal injuries. Harrigan was thrown to the street and injured in the right leg. Both were treated by Dr. Topham at the Central Emergency hospital.

Brushed Off Car

While riding on the platform of a Fillmore street car at 7:30 this morning, Alfonso Semeyer, a laborer, residing at 4136 Twenty-fourth street, was brushed off by a car going in the opposite direction at the corner of Church street and Dubose avenue, and received a severe wound on the forehead and contusions of the left side.

Woman Injured

While on her way home on an owl car at 8:30 this morning, Mrs. Grace Hamiltonburg was thrown from a car at Turk and Fillmore streets, when she was about to alight at the transferring point, and was taken by Police man Kerrigan to the Central Emergency hospital, where she was treated for a lacerated wound over the right eye.

11 CHILDREN THROWN FROM WINDOWS OF BLAZING HOUSE

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Eleven children, including a babe in arms, were caught in a chain of police-men early today, after they had been hurled from windows by terrified mothers, as fire raged in a tenement in South First street, Williamsburg. One boy of five was killed. From the third floor a mother tossed her baby, but it was caught by a policeman unscathed. Ten other children were dropped into the coats that the reserves hastily slipped off.

THIEF TAKES SUIT RATHER THAN VALUABLES

Unidentified Person Outfits Himself in Shoes and Clothes But Leaves Fine Goods.

Being in need of a new suit, an unidentified man picked the lock of a door of two homes of Miss J. 64 Valley street, sometime between yesterday morning, fitted him out in the necessary articles and then left the premises without disturbing a article of value with his room.

Mrs. Harrigan reported that she saw a man in a dark suit, a pair of black lace slippers, a pair of black shoes, a hat and a soft Stetson hat behind him, an old pair of slippers, but an overcoat, many articles of value in his trunk, but they were not taken. The stolen property is a brother of the complainant.

SOCIETY SMART SET

A pretty event of last evening was the wedding of Miss Lillian Parker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Parker, and Benjamin Aiken, the Rev. H. J. Vosburgh officiating. The ceremony was solemnized beneath a bower of pink blossoms and green foliage which had been erected in the living room. The bride wore a rich gown of white messaline silk made in the empire style. A long tulle veil confined to the hair with a wreath of orange blossoms completed the costume. The bridegroom was of the valley. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Mabel Parker, as maid of honor, who wore a pretty gown of blue messaline carrying bridesmaids' roses. Harvey Lyon was the best man. Following the marriage service an informal reception was held, after which supper was served.

Mr. and Mrs. Aiken left last evening for their wedding journey, which will include a trip through the southern part of the state. Upon their return they will occupy a home in Berkeley, which has been prepared for them.

Aiken is well-known in business circles and is a prominent young attorney.

TEA FOR BRIDE-ELECT.

Mrs. Fredrick T. Dieckmann entertained at an elaborate tea yesterday afternoon, given to compliment Miss Marion Walsh, the attractive fiancée of Dr. John Louis Lohse. The attractive Dieckmann home was decorated profusely with gorgeous yellow chrysanthemums combined with ferns. The guests included about seventy-five of the close friends of the hostess and her complimented guest. In the receiving party were Mrs. Dieckmann, Mrs. Walsh, Mrs. Edward M. Walsh, Mrs. George de Galla, Mrs. William de Framery, Mrs. John J. Valentine Jr., Mrs. Roger Chickering, Miss Clarissa Lohse and Mrs. Charles D. Bates Jr. The gowns of the receiving party and guests were very handsome and elaborate. The losses were an extremely becoming gown of gray satin with beautiful lace and finely cut steel embroidery. The gown worn by the guest of honor was of pink messaline and rich tulle lace.

Mrs. Edward Walsh's gown was of gray crepe de chine, heavily embroidered. Mrs. de Galla wore an attractive gown of pale blue satin. A gown of soft fabric in a pretty shade of brown was that worn by Mrs. de Framery. Mrs. John Valentine wore an exquisite gown of white lace, and Miss Lohse chose an embroidered chiffon in pale pink for the reception. Mrs. Bates' gown was one of the embroidered robe from the textile school in a beautiful shade of yellow.

Since the announcement of her engagement, Miss Walsh has been the inspiration for many delightful affairs.

HOMIE WEDDING.

A very pretty wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. McCutcheon, 215 Eighth street, on Wednesday evening, when Miss Pauline Starzinger became the bride of Guy W. Brunlage. The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Anna B. Starzinger of Des Moines, Iowa. She is a graduate of Grinnell, and a talented musician, and a very attractive young woman. Her wedding gown was of white tulle over white tulle, and elaborately trimmed with baby Irish lace. It was made in the empire style with sash of messaline silk. A bridal veil of tulle completed the becoming gown. Brides' roses formed the bridal bouquet. Guy Brunlage, the bridegroom, is the cashier of the First National Bank of Auburn and an exceedingly well liked young man.

The Rev. W. I. Martin of the First M. E. Church of Alameda was the officiating clergyman. There were no bridal attendants.

The rooms were attractively decorated with pink and green for the color scheme. Pink carnations combined with tulle and maiden hair fern formed an artistic arrangement for the supper table.

Among those present were Mr. and Mrs. W. A. McCutcheon, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Graham, Mr. and Mrs. C. V.

DANCING CLUB.

The first assembly of the dancing club which has been organized by the younger set will be given this evening at the Cadet Armory on Market street. The young people are to give a series of three dances, the remaining affairs to be given December 11 and January 1.

Several of the young people will give dinners previous to the dance. Miss Helen Crookan will entertain seven of her young friends who will afterward accompany her to the dance. Her guests will include the following young friends: Miss Dorothy Capwell, Miss Gertrude Adams, Miss Marguerite
Black, Miss Grace Boring, Miss Phyllis
Lovell, Edward Killa, Sidney Howard,
Lloyd Gilmore, Marcell Lohse, Wade
Snook and Geoffrey Bangs.

BACHELOR'S ASSEMBLY.

About fifty of the young men in the exclusive Alameda social set are to give an assembly at Harmonia hall this evening. The hall has been very attractively decorated with potted ferns and palms, which will make an effective background for the handsome gowns of the young ladies. The patronesses will be Mrs. George H. Perry, Mrs. Joseph A. Durney, Mrs. Philip
Teller, Mrs. George W. Simmons, Mrs.
Charles Tisdale and Mrs. Arthur Mason.

The young men will give two more dances, making a series of three. The second will be given on December 23 and upon February 23 they will give a Mardi Gras and supper dance.

SEWING CLUB.

The Saturday Afternoon Sewing
Club, which meets every three weeks, will be entertained next Saturday by Mrs. Harry Falls at the home of her aunt, Dr. Aldrich, on Grove street. The members are Misses Alice Armstrong, Irene Webster, Elizabeth Wilcox, Ruth

NOON WEDDING.

The wedding of Miss Rose White and Charles B. Jennings was solemnized at high noon on Wednesday, at the residence of the bride's parents,
Mr. and Mrs. J. White. The bride was attended by Miss Carrie Trahan and John White was the best man.
The Rev. Mr. Scott of St. Andrews
Church was the officiating clergyman.
Only the immediate relatives were present upon this occasion. After a brief honeymoon journey, the couple will return to East Oakland, where they are to make their home.

TRIP POSTPONED.

Mrs. Henry Butters and Miss Marguerite have postponed their Eastern trip until the New Year. Henry Butters has obtained leave of absence from Exeter academy, where he is attending school, to spend the holidays at the Butters home in Oakland. Upon his return to school he will be accompanied by his mother and sister.

NEWS FROM BRIDE.

Word has been received of the pleasant trip which Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Rice are enjoying in the southland. At present they are in Los Angeles, but are expected to return to Oakland next week, when they will be at the Layman home on Fifth avenue, where they will reside until the completion of their own home in Piedmont.

LUNCHEON HOSTESS.

Mrs. L. Harrison Clay entertained at piedmont Park clubhouse at a luncheon given to compliment her sister, Mrs. Laura Prather Waterbury, who will shortly return to her home in Los Angeles. Covers were laid for eight. Mrs. Waterbury has been making a visit of several weeks among her former acquaintances, where she has been warmly welcomed.

DELIGHTFUL MUSICALS.

Miss Zeula Cook, an accomplished musician of this city, will give an interesting musical at her home on Sycamore street this evening. She will be assisted by Miss Alice Guthrie of San Francisco, who is soon to leave for Europe to continue her musical studies upon the violin.

DEBUTANTE TEA POSTPONED.

The brilliant tea which was to have been given by Mrs. John McMullen at the Fairmont Hotel tomorrow afternoon has been postponed owing to the illness of Francis J. Hickey. Mrs. Mc-Mullen was to have formally presented her granddaughter, Miss Edna Mc-Mullen, upon this occasion.

PERSONALS.

Mrs. Will Spilth and Mrs. M. Schuster have returned from a week's visit with their sister, Mrs. Samuel Weeks in Vallejo.

NEW LEGAL TWIST IS GIVEN BULLOCK CASE

REDWOOD CITY, Nov. 20. There was a new legal twist in the Bullock case tested yesterday morning in Judge Bullock's court that may result in ending the case.
Mrs. Bullock's daughter, by her former husband, N. J. Brittain, are contesting the will left by her mother and also endeavoring to have District Attorney Bullock removed from the office of special administrator. Shortly before the election they filed charges against the district attorney, accusing him of having had a case in which T. W. McElaine was involved. The hearing on the petition for the removal of Bullock, its administrator, which would have brought matters to a head, was set for yesterday, but the attorneys for the contestants asked permission to revoke the petition, which was granted.

It was said that no new charges will be filed against the district attorney, but that the case will probably be settled.

FAVORS CHANGES IN CRIMINAL LAWS

Attorney Tuller Believes Verdict of Three-Fourths Jury Sufficient to Convict.

EDITOR TRIBUNE.—The Legislature of our State is soon to convene in its regular biennial session. Probably every citizen in the State feels a keen interest in the urgent necessity of improvement in the administration of our criminal law.
In every other country of the civilized world crime is on the decrease.
In the United States, and in our own State, it seems to be increasing. It is not only absolutely, but actually increasing in proportion to population. No improvement in our criminal law can be made, however, that is in conflict with the present provisions of our constitution.
To secure any such change, if it is necessary, of course, that the constitution be amended.

Wants Constitution Amended

As a citizen of this State I am therefore sending you the statement of a certain number of our constituents who are in favor of the proposed amendment to the constitution, which I believe, will result in very greatly increasing the efficiency and equality of our criminal law. I would like to see this amendment adopted. The proposed amendment in each case being capital crime, is as follows: That Article I, Section 7 of the California State Constitution shall be amended to read: That the right of trial by jury shall be secured to all and shall remain inviolate, but in civil actions and in criminal cases where the punishment is not death, the verdict of a majority of the jury shall be sufficient to convict. THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT OF THIS PRO-VISION, EXCEPTING IN THOSE CASES WHERE THE PUNISHMENT
MAY BE IMPOSED three-fourths of the jury may render a verdict.
The remainder of the section to remain as at present.

Favors Eight on Jury

It is proposed that Article I, Section 7 of the constitution be amended by the addition of the following: AND IN ALL CRIMINAL ACTIONS
FOR OFFENSES HEREINAFTER COM-MITTED THE JURY SHALL CONSIST OF EIGHT.

That a new section be added to Article I to be numbered Section 8 and to read as follows:

A CRIMINAL ACTION MAY BE RE-MOVED FROM THE COUNTY IN WHICH IT IS PENDING UPON THE APPLICATION OF THE DISTRICT AT-TORNEY WHENEVER IT SHALL AP-PEAR TO THE SATISFACTION OF THE COURT HEREIN THAT IT IS BEING PENDING IN THAT COUNTY FOR THE PURPOSE OF DELAYING THE TRIAL, AND THAT THE EVIDENCE OF THE CASE WILL BE PRESERVED BY SUCH REMOVAL. THE COURT SHALL REMOVAL FOR SUCH PURPOSES SHALL NOT BE REVIEWABLE UPON AP-PEAL.

Must Secure Popular Vote

The Legislature of our State is soon to convene in its regular biennial session.
In order to secure any amendment to our constitution it is necessary that it be proposed in the Legislature and that there be a two-thirds vote of both houses in favor of submitting it to the people. It must then be submitted to popular vote and if approved by a majority of the qualified voters voting thereon it becomes a part of the constitution.

Believing that the matters above set forth are of vital importance to every citizen of California and that the people of the State should have an opportunity of expressing their will thereon, I would most earnestly request that you use your influence and that of your neighbors before the people of your community and to secure the passage of your recommendations in the next Legislature to work and vote for submitting these propositions to a popular vote.
Sincerely yours,
WALTER K. TULLER.

RAISE SUBSCRIPTION TO BUILD AUTO ROAD

VALLEJO, Nov. 20.—Automobile owners in this city and neighboring towns are arranging to secure money by subscription to be expended by the Supervisors of Contra Costa county to build a mile of abandoned road leading up the hillside from the Southern Pacific ferry landing at Vallejo Junction to the main county highway, reaching from Richmond to Martinez. If this road is rebuilt automobiles could be transferred across the straits to and from this city on the Southern Pacific steamer El Capitan.

SINGER'S HUSBAND MAY LOSE LIMB

Herbert Bassett Allows Infection to Set in Wound.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—Herbert Bassett, the husband of Mrs. Blanche Aral, who was shot in the knee in an encounter with a footpad on November 12, was removed yesterday to St. Mary's Hospital, where it is possible amputation of the limb will be found necessary.
Bassett, thinking the wound of small importance, had been dressing it himself and had not called in a physician until a few days ago, when it became apparent that it was infected, and Dr. D. E.
Stifford was summoned.

Mrs. Aral also suffers from severe burns about the face and hands as the result of the upsetting of a chafing dish in her apartments at the Hotel Hutton last week. She was preparing a dish for her husband, who has been confined to his bed since the shooting, when a sudden move upset the chafing dish, and the alcohol, spilling on the table, flared up, enveloping the upper part of her body.

Rescues Wife From Blaze

Bassett sprang to her assistance and threw a blanket over his wife, succeeding in saving her from a serious injury only after she had sustained severe burns. The burning of his weight upon the injured limb caused Bassett experiencing pain and aggravation of the wound. Since that time he has suffered continual pain and the swelling has increased. Dr. Stifford states that the patient is in a serious condition and requires the constant attention of a nurse.

Despite the severe burns on face and hands Mrs. Aral gave her farewell concert at Children's Science Hall last night, being determined that those who had bought tickets should not be disappointed as they were by the illness of the singer shortly after her arrival here, which compelled her to cancel her first concert.

Bassett's serious condition will prevent his leaving for Los Angeles and the east, where Mrs. Aral is announced, and the tour will be directed by Gerald R. Lundy.

OAKLAND RESIDENT DIES IN VALLEJO

VALLEJO, Nov. 20.—Plummer E. Jefolla died Wednesday evening at the home of his son-in-law, Judge J. H. Jefolla, in California in 1862. Prior to the war he was engaged in the live stock and freighting business among the gold mines in Nevada county. He was for many years a foreman in the navy yard.

He then entered the employ of the Southern Pacific, where he was connected as an expert lumberman for twenty years. He made his home in Oakland with his daughter, Mrs. W. J. For-win, 630 Vermont street, since the death of his wife a year ago, having come to Vallejo last Sunday on a visit to his children here.

FATALLY BURNED.

LOS ANGELES, Nov. 20.—Falling asleep with his pipe in his mouth, Adam Northwick, a bricklayer, set fire to his bed in the Queens Rooming House last night, and was fatally burned before he could be rescued.

CELEBRITY SHIPPED.

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 20.—The first carload of celery ever shipped east from northern California, was forwarded yesterday by the Pioneer Fruit Company of this city, its destination being Chicago.

You Will Eat
Some Oatmeal,
Anyway

If you are a healthy American, you will eat oatmeal porridge occasionally, even if you do not have it every morning. When you do eat oatmeal, you will want H-O.

It costs a few pennies more than ordinary "rolled oats"—that's because it's steam-cooked for three hours under high temperature. The process is patented.
Fifteen minutes' boiling thoroughly prepares it for the table, and you have a porridge of sweet, tender, delicious kernels—not the pasty, mushy mass, that you get from ordinary "rolled oats." Ask your grocer for H-O.

The HOG is not a Cleanly Animal

Did you know that nine-tenths of the lard you buy is made from "any old" part of the hog, according to the public admission of the leading lard packer? Why, then, under the sun will people who are otherwise particular about their food continue to eat lardsoaked dishes? No matter how temptingly they are prepared, if they contain lard they are sure to cause future trouble.

Cottolene is not only purer than lard, being a vegetable product containing no hog fat, but it is more economical, more palatable, more wholesome.

If you care for your health you cannot afford to longer take chances with lard.

COITOLENE is Guaranteed Your grocer is hereby authorized to refund your money in case you are not pleased, after having given Cottolene a fair test.

Never Sold in Bulk Cottolene is packed in pails with an airtight top to keep it clean, fresh and wholesome, and prevent it from catching dust and absorbing disagreeable odors, such as fish, oil, etc.

HOT SPRINGS Va., Nov. 20. — "I wish you would just say that my cabinet is not made up or slated. No one has been decided upon for a place in it and no offers of any cabinet positions have been made to anyone." ## TOM JOHNSON WILL FIGHT ENEMIES

Declares He Will Have to Give up His Luxuries, But Will Follow Ideals.

CLEVELAND, Nov. 20.—As a result of his financial distress, Mayor Tom L. Johnson has given up his home, his auto and many luxuries to which he has been accustomed. It was not his fault that he went broke either, exactly. He declares that his devotion to the affairs of his late brother, Albert, caused his fortune to be wrecked.

After Albert's death the question was put to the mayor whether he would resign his office as mayor and take up the management of Albert's estate. He said yesterday: "I decided that I would not. I had entered the fight in this city with certain ideals before me. I wanted to fight privilege and special favors and I had already decided to live up working for dollars. So I concluded to stay right here and do what I could to help my brother's children at any distance."

Gave Time to Public

"Why did I choose the course I did? I'll tell you. It's not because I am a philanthropist, for I am not. I acted from a purely selfish motive. I wanted happiness and nothing else, when I closed up my business affairs and took up civic activity. And I have been happy, too. The past seven years have been the best of my life, leaving out of consideration the loss of my brother."

"I am going to be happy yet, too. We may have to go back to a cottage, but that's the way we started, and we can look upon life just as we did when we did in the big house on Euclid avenue."

Enemies to Attack

"They tell me my enemies are planning to bring financial trouble upon me. I've been expecting it. There's one thing I have not made—that of failing to foresee the efforts of those who would like to destroy me. It is opportunity presented. My enemies are capable of that. One may expect nothing, so from special privileges. However, realize that any other set of men in the same circumstances would not act the same. Let them do what they may. I've chosen my sort of attack upon me that they choose, with whatever success, and they will find me with a thousand fights left in me. I'll never give up. I can win, and strong and confident and they'll always find me at the front."

Is Not Coward

"If I had been a coward—if I had run away from this fight for the people of Cleveland—I would have saved my fortune and built it up. But I did not. I chose my course and I did not have any mind for altering it."

"The pursuit of more dollars does not interest me. I suppose I could go down in Wall Street now and make some money. I have bought and sold with E. H. Harriman and I suppose I could go out and do it again. But I am not going to do anything of the sort."

Never Spent Money

"I have never spent money on politics. In no campaign have I ever made more than my assessment ($500) on the $500 salary of mayor. Sometimes I have not paid that much in cash, when the committee has allowed me a certain amount for the use of my talents. I have never been in debt at the end of a campaign, but once."

"When I gave up active business affairs I did it because the requirements of my work did not suit me. My principles, I suppose, I could have taken up a life of ease when I retired had I wished. I was welcome to it. The clubs, fast horses, yachts and other amusements were open to me. For me, though, happiness lay in another direction. My only recreation has been automobileing. I'd like to lose one of my automobiles but I am afraid I can't."

Will Run Again

"Back in my prosperous days I gave the time on Euclid avenue to my wife. It is hers yet, and she will own it still, even though we can't afford to live in it. I don't feel discouraged. I am a free man and that means a great deal to me. And I have my friends, for I don't suppose it will be worth something to me to have my friends realize that I entered the mayor's office rich and left it poor? The realization of what all that means is worth more to me than the money I have lost. I am going to keep on just as I've started. I am going to be a candidate for mayor again this year."

Has Lost $400,000

The Municipal Traction Company, of which Mayor Johnson was president, was passed into the hands of receivers in the Federal court several days ago. Following this came the transfer to two local banks of the depositors' savings and Trust Company, of which the mayor was president. It is said this action was precipitated by the threats of Johnson's creditors to sue him to obtain payment on notes secured by the company. It is said Johnson has recently lost approximately $400,000 in connection with his interests in Lombard, O.

HOME TREATMENT

For Consumption and Throat Troubles Proves Very Effective.

The camps for tuberculosis patients in the pine forests of Montana, have demonstrated a wonderfully successful principle in the treatment of pulmonary diseases.

The remarkable stimulating effect on the respiratory organs by the pine forest atmosphere of the pine forest has led to medical experts recommending a diet from pine which contains the active principle so that by its use and the practice of deep breathing and lung exercise any person can have the advantages of the pine forest camps right at their own homes.

The formula as originally prescribed is the following: "One-half ounce concentrated pine essence, two ounces of glycerine, half pint of good whiskey. It should be shaken thoroughly and taken in doses of a teaspoonful to a tablespoonful every four hours."

These ingredients can be had from any good druggist and easily mixed.

The concentrated pine is a special pine product refined for medical use and comes only in half ounce bottles, each enclosed in a tin screw-top case, which is air-tight, but be sure it is labeled "Concentrated."

PROTEST AGAINST SHOOTING IN S. F.

BERKELEY, Nov. 20.—A mass meeting was held last night in Urmann gymnasium and the shooting of Francis J. Treacy in San Francisco was condemned. Resolutions to this effect were adopted at the meeting.

Mayor Francis Ferrier presided and the speakers were Attorney William H. Hutton, Professor Adolph C. Miller of the State University, Attorney C. S. Wheeler and Randolph Speckels.

FROM A CIVIL WAR VETERAN

Tells How He Was Cured of Rheumatism After Fifteen Years of Suffering.

Mr. John D. Laughlin, whose address is 212 E. 14th St., Burns City, Minn., has been a Civil War veteran and has lived on his present farm for 33 years. During the Civil War Mr. Laughlin served in Company B, 27th Indiana Volunteer Infantry, and was the direct result of the hardships of the war. After years of pain he found a cure in Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and his statement should be read by every rheumatic sufferer.

"I was discharged from the army in September, 1864, a physical wreck, weighing only 97 pounds," he says, "and soon after became seriously afflicted with rheumatism. My feet and ankles were swollen and my arms were drawn up stiff and at times I could not lift them, for they felt like lead. There were darting pains that shifted from one part of my body to another and kept me in misery at all times. At night I could not sleep and my heart troubled me. I was frequently confined to my bed."

I tried several doctors, but got little help and no encouragement from them, for they said I could not expect to live for more than a year or so, even with the best of care, and advised me to go to bed and wait. I then tried the old remedy of rubbing liniment, until I began to use Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. I had been sick for about fifteen years before I read about these pills and bought two boxes for a trial. Three weeks later I was able to get up and about the house. I kept on taking them until I was able to do anything of the sort."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are a tonic for the blood and nerves and have proved especially helpful to women and growing girls. They were used extensively in private medical practice, and proving efficient in a wide range of diseases and ailments. In all cases, were placed upon general sale with directions for use prepared by the doctor himself.

These pills are sold by all druggists or will be sent postpaid on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes, $2.50, by the Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y.

FEDERATION SELECTS WOMAN

IS NOW FRATERNAL
DELEGATE TO ORDER

American Labor Association
Discusses President's Report and Objections Are Raised to Certain Parts.

DENVER, Nov. 20.—Before the president's report was taken up today at the session of the American Federation of Labor, Mrs. Janet G. R. Wright, president of the Colorado Equal Suffrage Association, was elected fraternal delegate, representing the national American Woman's Suffrage Association.

Consideration of the committee's report on the president's report was then resumed where it stopped yesterday. The recommendation of the committee on the subject, "negotiation and political action," which caused a long debate yesterday afternoon, carrying with it the recommendation that any member of the executive council who does not agree with any action of the executive committee should resign, was adopted without debate. The only remarks made were by delegate John Mitchell of the Miners' Union, who wanted it understood that the recommendation of the committee did not refer to religious opinions.

Raises Objection

When the point in the committee report, endorsing the American Federationist, the official organ, was reached, Delegate J. M. Barnes of the Cigar-makers protested against an editorial which had appeared during the present campaign asking "who is financing the Red Special?" The "Red Special" was the train in which the Socialist Presidential candidate, Eugene V. Debs, made his campaign.

The editorial also charged that the forces opposed to labor were financing the Red Special.

Barnes offered a resolution calling upon the convention to appoint a committee to go over the books of the socialist party and ascertain where the funds were obtained. The resolution was signed by all the socialist members who are delegates to this convention and nearly all the socialist delegates spoke in its favor.

Big Ribbon Event 6 Inch Fancy 25c yd.

Once before when we sold this ribbon at 25c yard—during the October Trade Sales—
there was a typical bargain counter rush for it.

"It pays to buy this ribbon
now and keep it until you need it," said one woman, with an eye to economy.

The ribbon is high grade, firm quality flowered 6 inches wide, and excellent for hair bows and millinery trimmings, and fancy work.

Thanksgiving Millinery For Young Girls and Women

There is always something new in millinery—an added feather, a different colored piece of velvet, or a delft touch to the trimmings, and a bold
new creation has sprung forth.
That is the way with our Thanksgiving hats. We have kept in touch with all the latest Parisian and Eastern ideas, we have utilized those that are the most popular and now can offer what many millinery establishments are not doing—something distinctive in Thanksgiving hats.

Children's Hats at $2.75.

71 dainty little hats for girls from 10 to 14 years of age, most becomingly trimmed and attractive in every line. The hats are of the best quality felt and are trimmed in various ways—some with large wired bows, others with bows, quills and wings.
All of the popular colors are represented, such as black, white, leather, brown, tan, navy, red, Copenhagen.

These hats have all the appearance of $5 hats, and will give just as good service. Other styles from $1.75 to $3.75 each.

Our $10 Thanksgiving Hat

Lively Session Occurs Again In the Trial of Abraham Ruef

Still Probing to Fix the Blame For Suicide of Heney's Assailant

GALLAGHER GRILLED BY ATTORNEY ACH

'Big Jim' Subjected to Fierce Fire by Counsel for Ruef---Police Are Still on Guard.

(Special to The Tribune.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—Next to Abraham Ruef, the defendant, who after nearly three long months of court proceedings, culminating with the sensational shooting of Prosecutor Heney, and his own removal to the county jail, looks wan and pale and haggard. "Big Jim" Gallagher seems to feel most the terrific strain to which he is subjected.

This morning began the sixth day of his testimony and although he took his seat upon the stand with apparent alacrity, he heaved an almost audible sigh of weariness. As a witness Gallagher has had a rather hard time of it. He is interrupted in the middle of his testimony with objections; urged to respond more directly to questions, and forced to look way back into the past in search of some obscure conversation which is well nigh lost in his memory.

Today as on almost all the occasions of his being on the witness stand, Judge Lawlor was forced frequently to go to his rescue when he was being too closely prodded.

Police on Guard

The police detail still keeps guard over the trial. An element of excitement still prevails and the audience is visibly on edge and ready. It would seem, to run at the slightest disturbance.

At the opening of the morning session the matter of the immunity contract was again opened and Judge Lawlor almost at the outset was compelled to rebuke Attorney Ach.

"Before you went to the grand jury you did not have such an immunity contract in your possession, did you?" questioned Ach.

"No, sir," replied the witness and Attorney O'Gara immediately made an objection to the line of examination, appealing to the court.

"We're not making much progress with the examination," said Judge Lawlor.

"I'm doing the best I can," replied Ach, "the witness takes twice as long

LOCAL MERCHANTS ARE FOOLED

Clever Ruse Resorted To by Traveling Company

Another Evidence How Easy It Is to Sidetrack Legitimate Concerns

In the course of a day or two, before many suns shall rise, the merchants and manufacturers of Oakland will awaken to the stern realities that it is not always the fellow who says he is their friend who really is. Oakland, the city of opportunity, which is so affable in need of the proper kind of publicity in the Eastern States, where thousands await the news of the land of resources and attractions, is again and again being deceived by unscrupulous persons, organized under some silvery-tongued proposition, which promises to give to the Chamber of Commerce so many thousand copies of a "so-called" magazine, provided the merchant subscribe for so many copies. The victims are among the best citizens and honest taxpayers who know the exacting conditions that the Chamber of Commerce is in for good representative literature. At present a fine outside "fly-by-night" concern, passing under the name of the "Fly Publishing Co." of Seattle, are quietly going around among the honest merchants saying that Mr. Stearns of the Chamber of Commerce has accepted their proposition to accept 2000 copies of the "magazine" entitled the "Merchant's Appeal." Mr. Stearns repudiates any such claim, and the officials have run down the proposition, and it is as follows:

A corps of three men who are registered at a Twelfth street apartment house, have arranged with a Clay street printing house of excellent reputation to publish about an eight or ten pages paper containing "free" about different advertisers, and getting the advertiser to believe the stuff is true, and the paper will be a grand pictorial edition, demanding, however, that the advertiser, who is flattered by the offer to write his own "dope," be required to sign for so many papers at a certain price per copy. This is but one of the old ruses resorted to in the holiday season to separate the honest merchant from his money, to bamboozle the local papers, which day in and day out give pages of free boost to the local industries, but when efforts are made to put forth a magazine of character, which is required by the Chamber of Commerce, are met with the remark, "Oh, I gave $20 to an edition entitled 'The Merchant's Appeal' or 'The Chamber of Commerce' edition and can't afford any more."

The Chamber of Commerce warns its members and all citizens against such solicitations, and requests that only those that can show endorsements by the officers of its subscription be entertained. If a proposition for a legitimate magazine edition, in color plates with high class views of Oakland, is submitted to the Chamber of Commerce, approval of such editions and appeals to all honest people to subscribe for high class literature, but insist upon the solicitors showing correct sample dummy and authorization.

to answer my questions as is necessary."

Court Urges Haste

"This cross-examination, going into the credibility of the witness, is too long drawn out," urged the court. "The trial must go on and we must come to the end of it."

Attorney Ach endeavored to interrupt, but Judge Lawlor would not permit it and continued:

"I direct counsel that he must be more expeditious with this witness. The defendant's attorney then, resuming his questioning, interrogated him as follows:

"When you went to see Ruef at the St. Francis Hotel you had an immunity contract with you, didn't you?"

"When I went to see Ruef?"

"Answer my question, yes or no," urged the attorney.

"Well, when I went..."

"Will you answer my question, yes or no?" was the retort.

"Let the witness answer," interrupted the court.

"Will your honor direct him to answer yes or no?"

"I will not," replied his honor. "Proceed, Mr. Gallagher."

"I take an exception," said Ach.

When He Saw Ruef

"When I went to see Mr. Ruef at the St. Francis Hotel," resumed the witness, "the paper I showed him was one Mr. Sprinkle had given me when I called to him about immunity, but it was not the contract."

Judge Lawlor curtailed Ach's examination relative to the immunity contract and the witness was then taken over the ground of the Parkside and gas deals, telling of his relations and dealings with the surety men and the paying of the gas money.

Just prior to the 10:30 recess some excitement was caused among several of the district attorney's detectives and a few spectators over the action of a man who bore a startling resemblance to Morris Hays.

While he was in the courtroom the stranger kept his hands in his pockets and Detective Charles Oliver, watching him closely, made an effort to find out what he was about, but without success.

Finally seeing that he was observed, the unknown slipped out into the neighborhood, walking up the other side of the street and glancing cautiously at the police guard on duty on the outside. His name was not learned.

French Cruiser Is Dashed Upon Rocks

Heney's Condition Greatly Improved

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—Francis J. Heney passed another comfortable night and the improvement in his condition continues.

WIFE SEEKS DIVORCE ON CRUELTY GROUND

(Special to The Tribune.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—Complaining that her husband has been extremely cruel to her during their ten months of married life, Mrs. Joseph Bernard brought suit for divorce against Alphonse S. Bernard this morning. The couple were married February 1, 1908, and Mrs. Bernard filed her petition that her husband threw a large earthen dish at her, narrowly missing her head.

Is Now a Fight Between POLICE And the District Attorney

(Special to The Tribune.)

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—The inquest being held to determine the causes leading up to the death of Morris Hays, the salesman, who shot Francis J. Heney a week ago, has practically resolved itself into a battle between the police department and the attaches of the district attorney's office.

Growing out of the events of Hays' suicide, Detective Burns has been instrumental in filing charges with the police commissioners against Police-men Kelly and Attridge. Yesterday the proceedings denoted the antagonism between the district attorney and the department, and today there was much grumbling on the part of the police for having to wait around for almost an hour for the arrival of the district attorney and Detective Burns.

At 9:45 Dr. Zeland was about to begin proceedings, but as Chief Biggins deemed it was wiser to wait, nothing was done until the arrival of Langdon.

Captain of Police Duke was recalled to the stand to testify regarding property returned to Hays after he had been first searched, and at his request, Otto Bremer, a gunsmith, who lives in Alameda, was placed on the stand.

He testified in response to a hypothetical question put by Captain Duke that in the event that the derringer had been concealed in Hays' shoe next to the skin at the time of the shooting of Heney until the suicide, there would have been a susceptible trust mark on it. He stated that this might also have been the case had the weapon been just in the sock. No trust mark was found on the gun and it was Mr. Bremer's opinion that had been there originally not have been worn off the thing.

He stated further that if Hays had shot his home to hit the county jail, when he secured it in his hand, he would have been no mark.

The principal testimony of the morning was given by Police bridge, who told of being when Hays was called to see her husband at the county jail, and at it was absolutely impossible for her to have passed him a weapon of a kind.

Heard the Shot

A long Barclay Heney, secretary of the League of J. has been taking notes all morning, asked permission from Officer Attridge, an hour for about fifteen minutes as to the time he had and other technical matters, but without bringing out any point.

Attridge was followed by Ed. Hays, a trustee of the several other persons, in Benjamin D. Lee, who of the hot first and only attending Hays' imprisonment.

Tells of Threats

Mrs. H. Heney was the witness of the day and told at length of her acquaintance with Morris Hays and that it was two or three years ago that he first said to her, "I told her life long since his exposure, scorned and snubbed, that had fallen off, and that his children were insulted at school.

She said he showed her three pistols that he had and remarked that the derringer was a sure shot. She urged him to start life over again and get into a new business, but he said it was too late. Finally he let the matter drop and her persuasion, but at length began brooding over it again and said that he would kill him, and take somebody with him. He also spoke of murdering his wife and children.

Denies Giving Gun

Mrs. Heney told of her trip to the jail with Mrs. Hays and stated that it was impossible for either of them to have passed the weapon to the imprisoned man.

An adjournment was taken at 1:05 p. m., until 9:30 tomorrow morning and it is confidently expected that one more session will conclude the inquiry.

MUNICIPALITIES LEAGUE CLOSING ITS SESSION

SACRAMENTO, Nov. 20.—The eleventh annual convention of the League of California Municipalities closed today after a three days' session. The following officers were chosen by acclamation: President, Mayor A. R. Orr of Visalia; first vice-president, Mayor George Hudson of Stockton; second vice-president, Mayor George S. Evans of Riverside; secretary, H. A. Mason.

PRETTY WOMAN WILL BE SENT TO ASYLUM

Ida May Steiner, a young Berkeley woman, formerly engaged in the real estate business, who was adjudged insane by Judge West a few months ago, arrived from San Jose's Sanitarium at Berkeley this morning to be committed to a State insane asylum. Her condition did not improve and her relatives were unable to pay the $100 a month to keep her at the private hospital. Judge West will probably make the order of commitment this afternoon.

BAND'S LAST CONCERT.

BERKELEY, Nov. 20.—The members of the last Berkeley band are to hold the last concert of the season on Monday evening. A grand stand is to be erected on Alameda avenue just west of Adeline street, and the band is to be augmented with a number of new musicians from North Oakland.

Other prizes, consisting of piano manufacturers' bonds of denomination of $100, $50, $25, $10 and $5, will be awarded in groups of 10 to the next correct answer, making a grand total of $4,000, together with a beautiful souvenir.

THE REASON FOR IT

The giving away of this large amount in prizes is made possible only through the assistance and cooperation of the large and wealthy factories who have long represented in this section, and by special arrangements, we have secured manufacturers believing that the large amount of money spent in piano and talking machine purchases should be appreciated if divided among piano purchasers, they have AGREED TO ALLOW US THE LARGE AMOUNT, as stated above, the success of our former contest is a guarantee of our absolute fairness to all who enter. We fully expect this to be the greatest of all.

ONE PRICE SYSTEM

Our store has long been known as one of the few one priced stores in this city. Our pianos are marked in plain figures at the lowest selling price at all times. They have a fixed value as marked and you are assured absolute fairness and just treatment in every way, and at all times. Our prices on now the HENRY J. MILLER of Boston, RHONINGER, NEWMAN THOMPSON, LAUTER, A. J. KING, PORTER, SCHULZ, STANFORD, GILBERT, etc.

"JIM" CORBETT WILL BE AT MACDONOUGH SUNDAY

Mr. James J. Corbett, at the head of his own company in "Facing the Music," is scheduled for Sunday, Nov. 22, at the Macdonough. "Facing the Music" was originally produced in New York by Mr. Henry Dixie in the principal character, and enjoyed a long run at the Madison Square Theatre. Later it was seen at Powers Theatre, Chicago, where it ran through the entire summer. The work is by Charles Henry Barnaby, and is said to be one of the best comedies written in years. Last winter Mr. H. H. Frazer, who had entered into a contract with Mr. Corbett, under the terms of which the latter was to be started, decided that "Facing the Music" was just the vehicle for his stardom and handsome charge—Corbett. He is a natural comedian, and he is said to be eminently capable in his new venture.

REDUCING OF LEAD TARIFF IS FOUGHT

Colorado Smelting Company and Commercial Bodies Urge Chairman Against Cut.

DENVER, Col., Nov. 20.—The News today says:

On the ground that any further reduction in the price of lead will force many of the mines in Colorado to close down, the American Smelting and Refining Company will join with the commercial organizations of Denver in fighting any effort on the part of the next Congress to reduce the import duty on that metal. The first step in the campaign against such a reduction was taken yesterday, when the Colorado Manufacturers' Association, through its board of directors, addressed a telegram to S. B. Dwyer, chairman of the ways and means committee of the House of Representatives, protesting against any lowering of the tariff on lead. Other Denver commercial organizations are expected to take similar action.

MISSING WOMAN FOUND WANDERING AIMLESSLY

ALAMEDA, Nov. 20.—Mrs. Bennett, who disappeared Wednesday afternoon from the home of her sister, Mrs. Wollenstein on Webb avenue, and whose disappearance was reported to the police, was found last evening shortly before 6 o'clock wandering about in an aimless manner in the vicinity of the box works at the West End. She was returned to her sister's home, Mrs. Wollenstein, says that her sister's mind is affected.

Beautiful girls are to be very much in evidence on the Orphean stage next week. Youth and beauty and cleverness constitute the three biggest cards that can be played on the stage.

Here are the names of some of the beautiful maidens on the bill and their claim to fame and recognition. First is Miss Mild Millman, a dainty girl whose record in Europe during the last year entitled her to be called "the queen of the silver slipper." There have been several performers who have accomplished wonderful things on the stage in other years, but Miss Mild Millman is said to have surpassed them all. She is a mere slip of a girl, whom no one would look at with a suspicion of ability in the dramatic line. With her father and mother, she gives a performance that is a revelation. Then come the famous Traylor Sisters, who have been the subject of more newspaper portraiture than any two sisters who ever did an act in vaudeville. Among the beautiful women on the bill next week will be seen Miss Louise Hardinburg, who, with Henry Horton, the famous character actor, is to present a delightful rural sketch called "Uncle Tom's Cabin."

FIRE VICTIMS TO SUE FOR LOSSES

Many Sufferers From Quake
Fire Blaming Spring Valley,
Take Cases Into Court.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—Preliminary steps have been taken in a test suit filed today in the United States Circuit Court against the Spring Valley Water Company in an attempt to establish responsibility on that corporation for the damage by the following the earthquake of April 18, 1906. The ostensible plaintiff is Harry S. Ripley, to whom a number of claims have been assigned. He is represented by Attorneys H. C. Scherzner and F. H. Williams. They claim to have assigned claims running up into the millions, and yesterday made public a list showing about $160,000. The lawyers have been taking depositions of members of the fire department, private citizens, and army men who were engaged in the city in the days immediately following the disaster.

Alleges Poor Mains

The action is based mainly upon the alleged poor construction of the Spring Valley's plant and is far reaching in its general allegations. It is asserted that the company failed to provide its system with sufficient gates and valves, whereby any portion of its system might be cut out in case it became clogged; that the pipe lines were laid over filled-in or old tunnel holes and upon foundations that did not go through the solid ground. The claims already held by the plaintiffs are:

Julia M. Davidson, Santa Barbara	$2,000
Jesse D. Smith, Portland	$7,000
George W. Wilton, Oakland	$7,000
Julia N. Dayton, San Mateo	$1,000
Margaret E. Conway, Napa	$3,000
Julia A. Richmond, 14 Huse street	$3,000
George F. Wilson, Hotel Alhambra	$200
Jewell Samuels, 423 Broadway street	$2,250

Insurance Men Interested

Among those ready to make common cause with the plaintiffs, it is stated, are a number of insurance companies anxious to reimburse themselves for money paid out on losses it is alleged could have been averted had the Spring Valley Water Company been constructed in accordance with the most advanced knowledge upon this subject.

One of the important points relied upon in the present action is the admission by Chief Engineer Herman Schaefer that he knew of the weak portions of the system, and in an article written by him subsequent to the fire stated that he had advised the directors of the company against the defects, and that in reply he was told that there was not sufficient funds available for the purpose of reconstruction.

REV. WILLIAMS WEDDED TO FALLOW'S DAUGHTER

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—Miss Helen Fallow, daughter of Bishop Samuel Fallow of Chicago, was married last night to the Rev. Edwin Sydney Williams of Sacramento, Cal., a young Congregational minister, at the home of Rev. J. J. Jones, Presbyterian pastor of the Fifth Avenue Presbyterian Church. Bishop Fallow presided at the ceremony, assisted by Dr. Stevenson. Mr. and Mrs. Williams will visit Europe after their return next March they will live in Sacramento, Cal.

FUND DECREASED.

The association is composed of the most prominent physicians and educators in the State. The speakers are as follows: Dr. E. N. Dwyer, president; Professor M. E. Jaffe of Berkeley, vice president, and Dr. Foster, secretary.

The association will discuss of the important health questions of the day. The program has been arranged in four parts. At 10 a. m. Dr. E. N. Dwyer, president of the association, will address the gathering to 30 a. m. The Public Health will be discussed by Dr. J. J. Vallejo; Dr. A. R. Archibald; W. A. Clark, Alameda County physician.

This topic is one which has attracted attention lately and it is expected will undoubtedly be taken up by the speakers and will be some interest in the facts.

"School Hygiene" will be the subject in the afternoon. The speaker on this subject will include Dr. J. J. Dwyer, President; Dr. George I. Hardt, Berkeley; Dr. A. S. Ke and J. W. McClelland, superintendent of schools.

A stereopticon lecture illustrating "General Sanitation in Relation to Public Health" will be delivered by Dr. Rupert Blue, of the United States Public Health and Marine Hospital Service.

service. This lecture will begin at 8 o'clock.

A large attendance is expected at all the meetings.

The public has been extended an invitation to all the meetings.

WHY SUFFER?

Breath Hyomei and Kill the Loathsome Catarrh Germs

Just as long as you have catarrh your nose will itch, your breath will be foul, you will have and spit, and you will do other disgusting things because you can't help yourself. The germs of catarrh have got you in their power; they are continually and persistently attacking and irritating the mucous membrane of your nose and throat. They are now making your nose miserable; in time they will sap your entire system of its energy.

If you do not kill the loathsome germs of catarrh, their desperate action will in time undermine your reason, rob your brain of its brilliancy and activity, and leave you not only a physical but a mental wreck.

This picture is not overdrawn; the sufferer has thousands of just such cases. It has personally experienced the demoralizing results that come from the ravishing attacks of the horrible catarrh germs, the great-est pest of civilized nations.

But there is one remedy that will kill the germs and cure catarrh, and that is Hyomei, the Australian dry eye treatment. There may be other remedies, but they are not guaranteed as ending drugists will guarantee Hyomei to cure catarrh, or money back. Don't delay this pleasant antiseptic treatment. Every day you allow germs to exist in your system brings you nearer to complete demoralization. Any of the leading druggists will sell you a complete Hyomei outfit for only $1.00. Ask them about it. It is also guaranteed to cure bronchitis, asthma, cough, colds and hay fever.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—When questioned concerning an article shown him on the tariff which is soon to appear in a New York magazine, Andrew Carnegie declined to deny that he advocated the removal of the entire tariff on steel. Carnegie's attitude was sought in view of a report that he had decided that the tariff could be removed without hitting the American steel industry and that he

DANGEROUS FIRE ON BUSINESS BUILDING

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—A fire caused by crossed electric wires, broke out in a small house on the roof of the Sherman & Clay building, Sutter and Kearny streets, at 8:10 this morning and for a time it caused considerable excitement among the large crowd which congregated.

The fireproof condition of the building however prevented a spread of the flames and they were extinguished with comparatively little difficulty.

OREGONIANS TO FIGHT NOMINEE

OPPOSE GOVERNOR'S ELECTION TO SENATE

Republicans Pass Resolution Endorsing the Campaign Now Being Waged Against Candidate.

PORTLAND, Nov. 20.—The Union Republic Club in this state last night through its executive committee endorsed the fight that is being made against Governor George Charles Fairclain, who is the nominee for United States Senator and passed a resolution endorsing the movement to circulate for signature among voters of the state, documents relieving members of the Legislature who signed the statement No. 1, pledged to vote for the people's choice for United States Senator.

There were present besides nearly all the members of the executive committee, a large number of the members of the club, numbering among them many of the most prominent Republican politicians of the county, as well as a large delegation from other Republican clubs of the county.

The decision was not arrived at until after a well-worn which last night until late last night.

'GO SLOWER,' SAYS RAILWAY MAGNATE

James J. Hill Optimistic About Outlook, But Declares Speed Must Be Cut Down.

NEW YORK, Nov. 20.—While in New York, the business and industrial outlook optimistically, James J. Hill, chairman of the board of directors of the Great Northern Railroad, who is in this city, declares that matters must move slowly.

He said: "Things are moving forward all over the country but it is not well to move forward too rapidly and we must not put too much on Brother Tilt's shoulders at once. A great deal of work remains to be done. Mr. Taft cannot do it all. Several millions of people must co-operate in doing it."

New construction, he continued, whether in new roads or bridges, is going to be carried on conservatively. Railroad managers are going to look into propositions of new construction much more closely before they authorize extraordinary expenditures.

DECLARES WIFE RUINS BUSINESS

Charles Cameron Says He Will Give Worn an Everything to Quit Annoying Him.

"I will give my wife everything even our $5000 savings. If she will only let me alone and not hinder me from earning an honest living," cried Charles Cameron, a building contractor, on the witness stand in Superior Judge Harris court today where he was ordered to pay Mrs. Carrie Cameron, of Alameda, $10 a week for the support of herself and two children.

BARNEY RYAN IS CHARGED WITH FORGERY

(Special to The Tribune)
SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 20.—D. B. Ryan, a well-known Alameda man, was charged today with forgery in the Superior court. Ryan is accused of passing a check on him for $14 drawn on the First National Bank and that it was returned marked "no funds." Ryan did not stop annoying him, he would be driven to poverty.

STATE CLOSES IN LAMPHERE TRIAL

Accused.

LA PORTE, Ind., Nov. 20.—The State rested today in the trial of Ray Lamphere, accused of the murder of Mrs. Belle Guinness and her three children by setting fire to her house after the defense had finished the cross examination of Deputy Sheriff Anstiss. The deputy testified to admissions alleged to have been made by Lamphere following his arrest.

JURY EXONORATES TURFMAN BEDWELL

Death of Manuel Viera, Messenger Boy, Due to Unavoidable Accident, Is Verdict.

Manuel Viera, a messenger boy in the employ of the Eastern Telegraph company who died at the Receiving Hospital last Friday night as the result of injuries sustained by being run down at the intersection of Broadway and Grove streets by an automobile driven by H. J. Bedwell, the well known race horse man, was the victim of an unavoidable accident, the jury found. The jury's verdict was returned after eight hours of deliberation. Bedwell was exonerated of blame in the case.

FOR SALE---artistic suburban bungalow of 8 rooms---the very place you've always dreamed of owning---a surprising opportunity

Friday, Evening, November 20th, 1908.

Did you ever dream of owning a home in the country where you could grow berries and fruit and flowers and vegetables on about half an acre of land?

Here's your chance.

Did you ever wish you could live in a modern house like they build in the cities, with electric lights and hardwood floors and beamed ceilings and leaded glass windows and paved boulevards and big, wide sidewalks, and yet have a yard big enough and of soil rich enough to encourage you in "puttering around" on Sunday afternoons and holidays?

Here's your chance. We've just such a house.

Did you ever wish you had a city home in the country like you find out of New York and Chicago, where you could entertain your friends at a week end party, which you yourself could reach in 25 minutes by electric car past the door?

We have it for you.

Have you ever realized how much stronger the little wife would be and how much happier the kiddies would be if they had real country air to breathe and sunshine galore and room to walk and romp and ramble?

This is the very house for you, old chap. It's artistic to the very detail.

It was built for you or for someone with ideas just like yours.

If you've ever had a longing to own a home in the country within easy reach of the city by all means investigate this proposition. It is the opportunity of a lifetime.

It's 8 miles out of the city at the entrance of a residential park that has fair to develop into a veritable flower garden.

Electric cars pass the door and you in Oakland within 25 minutes.

The house is a story and a half bungalow and a veritable dream of modern architecture. Down stairs you'll find a great reception room, with a massive fireplace to one side; a dining-room with great beamed ceilings, a magnificent buffet table by a colored glass art window, with stem racks and plate racks all round it.

On the other side is the library, with its great row of bookcases, and off the guest room.

The floors of the recreation room, dining-room and library are of polished oak. The high punching is of oaken finish. The effect is superb, ideal, perfect.

Upstairs are three magnificent bedrooms, and a bath that's a wonder. The closets are almost as big as the rooms, and most of them are lit by a window.

The kitchen is perfect shelves and bins and cupboards galore, a new kind of sink, a toilet off the porch, convenient wash trays, etc.

The porch extends across the entire front and the outward appearance of the house is just as picturesque and artistic, just as original as the interior.

It's a home.

A home that thousands of men are wishing they could own.

It's going to be surrounded by other homes just as beautiful. Your neighbors will be other men with ideas just as yours.

Your advantage will be that you bought your house all ready built. That you KNEW before you paid your money what you were going to get.

This beautiful place is for sale.

It has never been occupied, in fact, was only completed last week.

We want a buyer.

And we want him right away.

We will arrange satisfactory terms.

The house is ready to move right into.

It's a high-class proposition, the price is $7000, the lot occupies about half an acre, and terms can be made for easy payments if desired.

It's worth investigating.

Call tomorrow and we'll take you out in the auto to see it.

Or, if you prefer, phone us and we take you out Sunday.

It's actually the most attractive, moderately priced suburban home we ever knew to be for sale in this county.

There's a most interesting history back of it all.

You'll always regret it if you don't look this up.

ANNOUNCEMENTS. The Graziers at the Bell This Week.

ETHEL AND ARNOLD GRAZIER "GOING INTO VAUDEVILLE" AT THE BELL.

There is a snaf of good things on the program at the Bell Theater this week and the clever team pictured above are giving their full measure of the plaudits of the big crowds who daily fill this popular theater.

In a hand some comedy act Mr. Arnold grazier gives an exhibition of the thing that is expected with all the grace possible. The selection is limited on the stage by the sister Miss Ethel show her marked ability in that line.

In addition there are seven big acts at the Bell all pleasing including Enigmurell, the scientific wonder and The Devil in Yonville. A big show and a real one to begin with.

Alleged Kryptoks

There is the genuine Kryptok and there is a cheap imitation that is sometimes passed on in unsuspecting purchases.

Kryptoks have been advertised by us for more than five years as the best fast and neat glass milk for it has no cement, no pieces patched on and no conspicuous lines upon its surface. Kryptoks are now sold by reputable opticians everywhere.

The public is advised to demand with every pair a certificate of genuineness. The honest optician is glad to give this. The dishonest one may deny it, and then for the sake of your eyes you should refuse the glasses and go where you know you can get the right article.
